

CITY COUNCIL ORDERS PHONE RAISE FOUGHT

Action Of Mayor Evans Approved
—Question Of Improved Service
Must Be Considered First

Action of Mayor Evans in requesting the City Attorney to take steps to prevent by legal action, the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company from violating its contract with the people of Richmond in the matter of rates, was formally approved and endorsed by the city council at its regular meeting Thursday night. The City Fathers gave official instruction to City Attorney Chennault to institute injunction proceedings against the company, which has been ordered to make rate increases by the governmental bureau in charge of the wires.

Local manager Harris has been notified by his superiors that the company will stand ready to refund to subscribers any increase in rates they may have to pay, in the event that courts finally decide that increases are illegal. Other states and communities have gone into the courts also to fight the proposed increases and there is no doubt but that the matter will go to the United States Supreme Court for final decision.

In many quarters there seems little objection to the increase in phone rates in Richmond, provided, however, that there is an improvement in the service that the company gives its patrons. The City Council will undoubtedly order the telephone and electric lighting and power wires placed underground in the business section of the city, and poles removed along the streets, at the time the new paved streets are laid. This suggestion has popular approval on all sides. If Richmond is to receive the full benefit of paved streets and new sewers, no half-way measures should be adopted. The appearance of the city with its unsightly poles and wires from the main business section. At the time the operating companies are removing their wires, it will be an easy matter for the phone company to install the central system in its plant. This system of operation requires no ringing by the person who wishes to call Central. Simply lifting the receiver from its "hook" calls central and replacing the receiver cuts off connection. Most all modern cities have this sort of service now. Other towns in Kentucky, the size of Richmond have it, and there is no valid reason why Richmond should not enjoy its benefits also. The proposal to raise the rates comes in line with suggestions for improving the service telephone patrons of Richmond. It is understood that high officials of the company will soon come to Richmond with plans and a proposition regarding needed and desired improvements.

The City Board of Tax Supervisors was also named at the meeting of the City Fathers last night. They were Messrs. Arthur Todd, Webster Hamilton, and Wearen Kennedy. All are property owners and well familiar with property valuations in Richmond.

The council voted a donation of $100 to the Associated Charities, which under the leadership of Dr. Telford, is doing a splendid work for the poor and needy of the community.

TO THE VOTERS OF MADISON COUNTY

It is with a profound sense of the responsibility and appreciation of the duties attending the office of representative from Madison county in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, that I announce my candidacy for election to that office, subject to the action of the Democratic party at the primary election August 5, 1919.

In the 1918 session of the General Assembly, I worked faithfully and ardently for the interests of my state, and I am for that session, and if I made mistakes they were the head and not of the heart. I voted on all measures as I deemed it to be the best interest of my people to vote. The sole object of the legislature in enacting the law known as the Dog Law, was to protect the wool growers of Kentucky, so that in the event the farmers sustained loss by dogs killing or injuring sheep, they would be paid in full and at once, but I must say that officers for issuing the license and enforcing the provisions of the law, and an amendment of said law so as to reduce the cost of enforcing the law to a minimum, and the farmer get the benefit of the revenue provided by said law, and protect the dog owner in the possession of his property.

I will also advocate the amending and modification of the law creating the new Tax Commission, authorizing a set of officers at Frankfort, Ky., to compel the County Board of Supervisors to assess property at the time they come up for valuation, and not by them on property they have never seen nor know nothing of its value. This was done by a special session of the General Assembly in 1917, of which I was not a member and had nothing to do with its passage. I am convinced that I would be in better position to aid my county in the next session of the General Assembly than I was in the last session, from the experience I gained at that session, and if nominated and elected, I promise you that I will work faithfully to protect your interests at all times.

I have never been recreant to any trust given me by the voters and by the help of God, never will.

Thanking you for the confidence and support given me in the past and with an abiding faith in your fairness and justice and asking you not to condemn me until you hear both sides of all the claims that may come up, I submit my claims to you and by your action I will be satisfied. Most respectfully,
H. C. RICE.

EXPLOSIVES FOUND IN NEW YORK HOUSE

(By Associated Press)
New York, May 2—The large quantity of explosives confiscated by police and federal agents at a house in West 45th street, is being examined at police headquarters today in connection with investigation of the May Day conspiracy to kill prominent men by sending them bombs through the mails.

Officials announced that the house was raided last night by the police.

Meanwhile the authorities are expecting to make a round-up of "Reds" here today, believed to have been concerned in sending 25 bombs to prominent persons. One of them exploded, the others being turned over to the authorities.

It is assumed that the warnings sent broadcast, made it improbable any bombs which may still be in transit will accomplish the execution designed for them.

It was reported here today that cablegrams have been sent to members of the peace delegation in Paris warning them against opening packages.

HARLAN EDUCATOR ELECTED CHAIRMAN

By County Superintendents in Session
At Educators' Conference At E. K.
Normal—Thursday A Big Day.

Supt. A. C. Jones, of Harlan county, on the 13th of the month, presided and aggressive superintendents attending the conference, was elected chairman of the meeting Tuesday evening and presided Thursday and last night. He has a forceful way of expressing himself and conducted the meetings with an ease and promptness. Each speaker was greeted by the chairman in a most gracious manner. Dr. Myers, head of the music department of the Normal School, addressed the meeting at 8:30 p. m. His subject was "The greatest authorities on public school music in the United States and has a way of putting his subject in plain language everyone present to the need of promoting public school music."

Prof. McHenry Rhodes, State Superintendent of High Schools, delivered an address on the subject "A high school education for all country boys and girls without severing home ties with education. He stated that this could be done in two ways. First, by building high schools in every educational district, where the students would be in walking distance of the school; second, by consolidation and transporting the students to a central location. The high school graduates matriculating in the two normal schools have increased many, many times within the past few years.

Supt. F. D. Perkins, of the city school of Harlan, gave a splendid talk on the intellectual drain on rural communities. Mr. Perkins is one of the most successful educators in Eastern Kentucky. His address was most enthusiastically received.
At 8:30 p. m. a large crowd assembled in the auditorium for the dedicatory exercises of the new training school building. Father Schulte conducted the exercises, exercises as follows: The Model School children sang some beautiful songs. Dr. Myers is getting wonderful results from his efforts in instructing the children. Dr. McVey, President of University of Kentucky, delivered the address for the occasion. He took for his subject, "Education for all citizens through a better civic and patriotic instruction." Dr. McVey is a forceful and eloquent speaker. After the exercises the meeting adjourned to the training school building where they were given a reception by the students and faculty. A most pleasant and social hour was spent in the building. Refreshments were served to students, patrons, superintendents and visiting educators.

Immediately after the reception a photograph of the superintendents and visiting educators was taken. The last speaker, Mr. McGaughey, in front of Roark Hall where McGaughey was waiting for them. A picture will be the souvenir of the occasion and will be sent to all citizens of Harlan county. At 8:00 p. m. Dr. Grinstead opened the meeting by conducting the devotion of the occasion. Dr. Grinstead introduced John Howard Payne of Midway and gave him a warm welcome. Dr. Payne lived up to the introduction and brought before the assembly the advantage of mutual benefit in urbanization of country and ruralization of the town. He pleaded for organization in the country and suggested mass play, group games and organized meetings as a way to urbanize the country. He showed numerous ways by which the town and country could be brought closer together. His address was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Sidney W. Landon of Cleveland, Ohio was introduced by President Coates and for two hours he presented the audience with a most interesting and humorous literary work. Mr. Landon is a real artist. During the evening he impersonated Victor Hugo on his eighteenth birthday and delivered the address that Hugo delivered to the 700,000 who assembled in Paris to commemorate the occasion of the centennial of the French Revolution. Bill Nye kept the audience howling. Nye's address on the "American Boy," given as Nye gave it, was a real treat. "Edgar Allan Poe" was a literary man and the impersonation of this great poet was as natural as could be. Mark Twain was presented and enjoyed; but most of all the audience enjoyed the impersonation of the old character that lived in the town with James Whitcomb Riley—for thirty minutes. Landon had the house in an uproar. Lastly he presented Henry Wedgeworth Longfellow. It was one of the most entertaining programs ever presented to a Richmond audience and was appreciated by the visiting educators. The meeting will close Friday noon.

GRIEVOUS MISTAKE QUICKLY CORRECTED

Garrard County Boy Charged With Failing To Register Had Fought Bravely For His Country In France.

A grievous mistake was very properly and promptly corrected by Judge A. M. J. Cochran in Federal Court Thursday when the indictment against Robert McQuerry, of Garrard county, accused of failure to register for military service, was nulled, or in other words thrown out of court. By an error his bond was declared forfeited Tuesday. The facts developed that McQuerry volunteered for service in the army, went to France and fought bravely and heroically for his country. Through some mistake, the fact did not come before the proper authorities and this action was brought against him.

The jury which tried Lily White, a white girl on the charge of taking a sweater from a mail box in the Hubble section of Lincoln county, was brought in a verdict of not guilty late Thursday.

William Lynch and Bettie Rawlings pled guilty to robbing the post office at Old Landing, Lee county, and will be sentenced later by the Judge. In fact the Judge will pass on a number of offenders at the close of court. Lynch is said to be an old offender, having served time on a similar charge before. His accomplice is only a young girl.

Major Woodson, of Lexington, was found guilty of violating the purity zone act in regard to soldiers in camp. Ben Bailey and Sara Bailey, white and Lily Baker, colored, of Lexington, were also convicted of violating the purity zone act.

John Henry Allsman, of Boyle, pled guilty to failure to register for military service.
